MISCELLANEOUS TEAM NOTES

NO ALL-STAR REPRESENTATION

For the first time in club history, the Revolution will not be represented at Wednesday's MLS All-Star Game ... following the announcement of the game day 18 on July 15, no Revs players will be present in Philadelphia this week for the AT&T All-Star Game against Champions League victor, Chelsea FC ... also of note, Shalrie Joseph will see his eight-year run as an MLS All-Star come to an end ... he had earned that recognition every year since 2004.

REVS BACK IN NATIONAL AUDIENCE SPOTLIGHT AGAIN

Following the All-Star Game, the Revs return to action in their third match this season nationally-televised on the NBC Sports Network ... the Revs fell to New York, 1-0, in their last match on NBC Sports on April 28 ... in the club's NBC Sports Network debut on March 31, the Revs erupted for two first-half goals to defeat LA, 3-1 ... the Revs did not see much success in nationally-televised games between 2009 and 2011, posting a 4-12-6 record: 2-1-2 on ESPN2, 1-3-2 on the Univision family of networks (Univision, Telefutara and Galavision) and 1-8-2 on FOX Soccer.

REVS AND UNION BATTLE UNTIL THE VERY END

In the four previous meetings between the Revs and Union, fans have gotten their money's worth ... three of the four meetings have been decided by come-from behind goals in the 70th minute or later ... the first meeting on July 31, 2010, at PPL Park, the Revs used Marko Perovic's 71st minute goal to equalize and secure a 1-1 draw ... Union goals in the 82nd and 92nd minutes equalized, and then sealed a win, respectively, on August 28, 2010, at Gillette Stadium ... Philadelphia stormed back with 80th and 91st minute goals to force a 4-4 draw on Sept. 7, 2011

NO BROTHERLY LOVE AGAINST PHILLY

Sunday's match will be the Revolution's first of three regular-season games against Philadelphia this season – a club against which New England is still winless, going 0-2-2 all-time against the Union ... the Revs have found modest success in the two previous trips to PPL Park, earning draws in both trips ... the clubs met for the first time at PPL Park on July 31, 2010, and played to a 1-1 draw, before playing to a 4-4 draw on Sept. 7, 2011.

TRIO OF ROAD GAMES FINISHES WITH TRIP TO PPL PARK

The Revs' current three-game road swing – the team's longest of the season – wraps up with a trip to Eastern Conference foe Philadelphia on Sunday ... the Revs began the stretch of three road games last week with a mid-week loss to Montreal (2-1) before Saturday's scoreless draw in Kansas City... after traveling directly from Montreal to Kansas City, the team returned home on Sunday to train for four days before the quick trip to Philadelphia for Sunday night's matchup.

AND TIME FOR A ROAD WIN

Saturday's draw at Kansas City was just the third road result of the year as the Revs are now 1-7-2 away from Foxborough in 2012 ... after dropping their first two road games of the year (1-0 at San Jose, March 10; 3-0 at Kansas City, March 17), the Revs picked up a 3-1 win at LA on March 31 ... however, the Revolution is 0-5-2 in its last seven road matches since that win, going winless on the road in April, May, June and so far in July.

REVS MATCH SHUTOUT MARK

The Revs secured a point on Saturday at Kansas City with a strong defensive performance in the scoreless draw at Kansas City ... the shutout was the team's fifth of the season, and Matt Reis' fourth of 2012 ... one year ago through 20 games, the Revs had posted four defensive shutouts, and finished the year with only five clean sheets ... the team struggled to find shut out their opponents, recording just one defensive shutout in the final 14 games of the 2011 campaign – a 2-0 win against FC Dallas on Sept. 10.

JULY SCORING SLUMP

While the Revs posted their fifth defensive shutout on Saturday at Kansas City, the 0-0 draw also marked the team's second attacking shutout of the month, after falling 1-0 to Toronto on July 14 ... in the four games played so far in July, the Revs are 1-2-1 and have a scoring average of 0.75 goals per game ... the team opened the month against New York (July 8) with a 2-0 win, its ninth multiple-goal game of the season, but have scored just one goal since – a Lee Nguyen strike in the 2-1 loss to Montreal on July 18.

STRIKING BACK AFTER ATTACKING SHUTOUT

The Revolution has been shut out seven times this season, but the last five times the team has been held scoreless, the squad has come back to score at least one goal in its next game ... after back-to-back shutouts to open the year, the Revs have responded with at least one goal in their next game following a clean sheet ... most recently, following a 1-0 loss to Toronto at home on July 14, the Revs responded with a goal at Montreal last Wednesday.

ALL TIED UP AND TWISTED IN LAST 10

Saturday's draw at Kansas City was the team's fifth of the season ... after playing to a win or a loss in the first 10 games of the season, the Revs have earned five draws in the last 10 games ... the Revs set a club record last season with 13 draws en route to a 5-16-13 record.

BACKLINE ROSTER BOOGIE

Jay Heaps shook up the Revs backline on Saturday in Kansas City for the second straight game ... Darrius Barnes started at left back while Chris Tierney – who had started there the previous 18 games – lined up at left midfield ... Barnes earned his first start of the season at center back last Wednesday in Montreal in place of the injured Stephen McCarthy, who missed the mid-week match with concussive-like symptoms stemming from a hit on July 14 against Toronto.

CAPTAIN JOSEPH RETURNS

Shalrie Joseph returned to the starting lineup at Kansas City on Saturday – his first start since the June 30 match against Seattle, at Gillette Stadium ... Joseph came off the bench in two straight games (July 8 vs. New York and July 14 vs. Toronto), and suffered from back stiffness and did not dress last Wednesday at Montreal ... during that three-game stretch, Clyde Simms wore the captain's armband.

REIS AMONG ELITE IN SAVES AND SAVES PERCENTAGE

Following a six save effort at Kansas City, Matt Reis returned to the league's top 10 in saves and saves percentage ... Reis' 57 saves rank eighth in MLS, behind league-leader Matt Pickens of Colorado ... in 18 starts, Reis has stopped 57 of 82 shots he's faced – a 69.5 saves percentage – which also ranks eighth in the league.

ALSTON COULD REACH CAREER MILESTONE ON SUNDAY

Kevin Alston enters this week with 99 career appearances – all starts – and could record his 100th start in the same number of appearances on Sunday in Philadelphia ... with one more start, Alston would become the first player drafted in the first round of the 2009 MLS Super-Draft to record 100 appearances and starts ... Alston recorded 26 starts in his rookie season and made 22 starts in 2010 before starting 33 of the team's 34 games in 2011.

EARLY BOARDING HELPS

The Revs have scored first in a match eight times this season, going 4-2-2 in those games, accounting for more than 60 percent of the games in which the Revs have taken points ... however, in the 10 games in which the Revolution's opponent scores first, New England is 2-7-1 ... worse yet, the Revs are 0-5-0 on the road when their host scores first, but 2-1-0 at home when their visitors strike first.

THE NEW GUY'S BACK

Ryan Guy has started the last two games after returning to the starting lineup last Wednesday at Montreal with a nod at right midfield ... Guy then got the start at forward on Saturday in Kansas City and during the game played up top, left midfield and center midfield ... said Heaps following the KC game, "Because we were so leg-weary, we had to make some tactical moves to put guys in ... (Guy) was huge for us" ... during a stoppage time collision, Matt Reis went down and Heaps quipped postgame "If Matt Reis wasn't able to get up, then Ryan Guy was going in goal. I think he would have set the record for number of different positions in one game." ... the team's new "Mr. Versatile," Guy has played right midfield, left midfield, central midfield, forward and right back at various times this season.

LOOK FOR JERRY IN LONDON

The opening ceremony of the 2012 Olympics takes place this Friday night, but Olympic soccer actually begins on Thursday ... after signing with the Revs on July 5, Jerry Bengtson departed on July 16 to join the Honduras Olympic Team ... Honduras had a friendly against Egypt in Amiens, France, last week before opening Olympic play ... Honduras is in a group with Morocco (July 26), Spain (July 29) and Japan (Aug. 1) ... before departing for the Olympics, Bengtson made two substitute appearances and scored a goal in his first-ever MLS game on July 8.

TOUGH GUYS BLEED REVOLUTION COLORS

It would be tough to argue that Matt Reis and Darrius Barnes left anything less than all they had on the field Saturday night in Kansas City ... after the game, Reis required 12 stitches to close three cuts on his forehead he suffered in a stoppage time collision with Kei Kamara, while Barnes required six to close a gash under his eyebrow from a first-half collision with Kamara ... a photo of the bandaged Revs smiling on the postgame bus can be found at twitter.com/NERevolution.

REIS SHUTS THE DOOR

Matt Reis recorded his 68th career shutout on Saturday in Kansas City and with four clean sheets this year, is one shy of matching his 2011 shutout total (5) ... Reis' next shutout will be his 60th with the Revolution as he also recorded nine shutouts while with the Galaxy from 1998-2002 ... Reis recorded his first shutout as a member of the Revs on August 11, 2004, in a 3-0 victory at Dallas and has earned at least three clean sheets per season since then.

REIS AND SHUTTLEWORTH ARE A STRONG TANDUM...

Jay Heaps has used Bobby Shuttleworth and Matt Reis equally in the last four games and the duo has more than kept the Revs in games ... since July 8 against New York, the Revs have allowed just three total goals in four games and have shut out their opponents twice ... the 0.75 goals against average in the last four contests is the team's best four-game stretch this season ... Shuttleworth conceded just one goal in 180 minutes of play on July 8 and 14, while Reis allowed two goals in Montreal on Wednesday but followed with a shutout on Saturday in KC.

...AND BOBBY HAS A GREAT MENTOR IN MATT

They may be competing for playing time this month, but goalkeepers Matt Reis and Bobby Shuttleworth have a definitive mentor-mentee relationship ... said Shuttleworth last week to the Boston Globe, "Matt's helped me since Day 1. There's too many things to list how he's helped me, and things that he's seen. He's obviously a veteran in this league for a long time" ... Reis has shown Shuttleworth the ropes and the 25-year-old certainly appreciates it: "(Matt) doesn't try to push anything on me. He says, 'This is what works for me. If you want to use that, that's great. If you don't that's your choice.'"

WHERE SHUTTLEWORTH SITS IN THE CHARTS

With his start on July 14 against Toronto, Bobby Shuttleworth moved up on the club list for all-time games played and appearances in goal ... Shuttleworth's 14 starts and 15 appearances are now tied for eighth with Jim St. Andre who played one season with the Revs in 1996 ... at 1,311 career minutes in goal, Shuttleworth is now just 36 minutes away from passing St. Andre for eighth on the club's goalkeeper minutes list.

SOME LIKE IT HOT

If it looked a little warm at kickoff on Saturday in Kansas City, it's probably because it was 97 degrees when the game began shortly after 8:30 p.m. ET ... despite the heat, the Revs continued their dominance in games when the mercury peaks above 90 degrees ... since 1996 in games that kicked off in 90+ degree weather, the Revs have picked up points in 21 of the 29 games, going 11-8-10 ... the Revs are also unbeaten (1-0-3) in their last four contests during those weather conditions dating back to July 20, 2011.

HEAPS' BOYS SHOWED HEART IN HEAT

Jay Heaps' squad battled 97 degree weather on Saturday night in Kansas City and captured points for just the third time on the road this season ... said the Revs' head coach postgame on Saturday: "The guys really had to play mentally, physically, and with heart. I think both teams showed it tonight" ... continued Heaps, "We are happy with the result because guys seemed to be going down left and right. It's difficult, but both teams had to deal with the heat out there. It's hot."

TIERNEY MOVES UP ON THE LEFT

Chris Tierney and Lee Nguyen started their 18th game together on Saturday in Kansas City, but for the first time, the duo was not locking down the left side ... Tierney got his first start of the year at left midfield instead of his normal left back position, while Nguyen got his first start at central midfield under Heaps' 4-5-1 lineup ... Tierney hasn't shied away from speaking about his teammate, even if the two played in different spots ... following the June 2 match against Colorado, Tierney tweeted the following of his left-side partner: "played with a lot of wingers over my time in NE but I must say @LeeNguyen24 can do things that none of the others can. lets keep rollin kid" - @christierney8 ... following the July 8 match against New York - in which Tierney assisted Nguyen for the game-winner - he said the following in his postgame comments, "I love playing with Lee ... He's as technical as you get in this league. He's been awesome for us all year and I think we have a good understanding of when one goes, one covers."

SOARES, TIERNEY AND REIS PUTTING IN THE MINUTES

Of the 25 Revs players who've appeared in a game this season, only three players have played at least 90 percent of the minutes ... A.J. Soares is the only player who has started all 20 matches, while Chris Tierney has made 19 starts, sitting out the season opener while serving a one-game suspension ... Matt Reis has played every minute of the 18 matches he's started this year ... after Reis, the Revs player who's play the greatest percentage of minutes is Lee Nguyen (1,593 of 1,800 minutes/88.5 percent).

Player	GP	GS	MIN of 1800	PCT of MIN
A.J. Soares	20	20	1759	97.7
Chris Tierney	19	19	1707	94.8
Matt Reis	18	18	1620	90.0

A TALE OF TWO TEAMS

Any observer can see the Revs are a different team from the one that took the field a year ago, and it stems from new head coach Jay Heaps' attacking mantra ... a look at the team comparisons from the 2011 squad and the 2012 squad - through 20 games - tells the story a team this year that attacks, pushes the game and goes all out:

Category	2012	2011
Record	6-9-5	4-9-7
Goals	25	16
Assists	21	13
Goal Differential	0	-10

Passes Completed	6,378	4,714
Passes Completed/Game	319	236

Duels Won Percentage	50.7	50.1
Fouls Committed	205	263

ONE-STRIKER FORMATION IN LAST TWO

After using a two-striker formation in nine straight games dating back to May 12 against Colorado, Jay Heaps has used a lone-striker in the last two matches ... on Wednesday in Montreal, Saer Sene was the single-forward up top, while Ryan Guy made his third start at forward on Saturday in Kansas City ... Jay Heaps has used a two-forward setup in 16 out of the 20 games this year.

CORNER KICK NUMBERS FLUXUATING

After taking a combined 22 corner kicks in the July 14 match against Toronto and last Wednesday in Montreal, the Revs took only one corner kick on Saturday in Kansas City ... the Revs attempted a season-high 13 corner kicks on July against Toronto, a figure two shy of the club's single-game record (15) ... last Wednesday at Montreal, the team attempted nine corner kicks, a number that also out-paced the team's previous game high headed into the Toronto match (June 2 vs. Chicago, 7) ... with one corner kick taken on Saturday, the Revs are now 14th in the league in corner kicks with 86 this season this season, ... a combination of Chris Tierney (40 corner kicks), Benny Feilhaber (24) and Kelyn Rowe (13) have taken the majority of the team's corner kicks.

TOUGH TO GET PAST THE REVS IN THE SECOND 45

The first and second halves of games this season have been polar opposites for the Revolution defense ... the Revs are tied with LA and Toronto for the most first-half goals conceded (17) ... however, in the second half, no team has allowed fewer goals (8) ... the Revs have allowed 0.85 goals per first half average, but a MLS-best 0.40 goals allowed per second half mark.

GOALS MAKE A DIFFERENCE

The Revolution enters the weekend with a neutral goal differential, scoring 25 goals and allowing 25 goals through 20 games ... however, that stat alone doesn't tell the whole story ... one year ago, through 20 games, the Revs had a -10 goal differential, scoring 17 goals while allowing 27 through the same number of games.

WHAT WILL SENE DO IN THE SECOND HALF OF 2012?

With eight goals so far this season in the first half of the season, Saer Sene has already matched the team's single-season scoring highs from the last four years ... in 2008 (Steve Ralston, Taylor Twellman), 2009 (Kheli Dube, Shalrie Joseph) and 2011 (Shalrie Joseph), the team's leading scorer for the season also scored eight goals ... Sene had already passed the 2010 season-high (Marko Perovic, 6) ... after the All-Star break, what will Sene do the rest of the season?

GILLETTE STADIUM DOUBLEHEADER JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Italian giant AC Milan will meet Honduran power Olimpia at Gillette Stadium on Saturday, August 4 ... Olimpia replaced Brazil's Cruzeiro, who was earlier scheduled to face AC Milan in that match ... AC Milan and Olimpia will meet in the first game of a special doubleheader that will see the previously-scheduled match between the host New England Revolution and Sporting Kansas City in the second game ... tickets for the special doubleheader start at $35 ($30 for group tickets) and are on sale through all Ticketmaster outlets ... for more information, visit revolutionsoccer.net

JAY HEAPS FACTS & FIGURES

Jay Heaps, 35, is the sixth head coach in club history, and is also the second-youngest active coach in MLS (behind D.C. United's Ben Olsen) ... Heaps had a nine-year playing career in MLS, first with the Miami Fusion beginning in 1999 - when he was drafted second overall in the MLS College Draft before earning MLS Rookie of the Year honors that season - through June 2001 ... he was traded to his hometown club, New England, in June 2001 where he concluded his career before retiring following the 2009 season ... Heaps is second all-time in minutes (21,619) appearances (243) and starts (238).
